ABSTRACT

This paper provides the instructions for the preparation of papers for submission to CSIT 2009 and relevant style file that produced this page.

Keywords

Computer science, informatics, information technology.

1. INTRODUCTION

The 2009 Computer Science and Information Technologies Conference will be held at Yerevan, Armenia, from 28 September till 2 October, 2009.

The major topics include, but are not limited to the following:

- Algorithms, Automata and Logic
- Discrete Mathematics and Combinatorial Analysis
- Information Theory and Coding Theory
- Artificial Intelligence and Management Support Systems
- Pattern Recognition and Image Processing
- Parallel and Distributed Computing
- Cluster and Grid Computing
- Design and Testing
- Telecommunication and Networking
- Information Technologies Applications

2. PREPARATION OF THE PAPER

Authors are encouraged to use \LaTeX to prepare their extended abstracts, using the style file and example on the conference web-site. Authors using other means to prepare their abstracts should attempt to duplicate the style of the example as closely as possible.

Authors are invited to submit papers in PDF format (template available on the Conference site) by submission system. Accepted papers will be published (up to 4 pages in length) in the Conference Proceedings.
